Dr Gale Pearson is a Consultant in Paediatric Intensive Care and Honorary Senior Lecturer in the Department of Anaesthesia and Intensive Care at the University of Birmingham.

Gale has been a consultant at Birmingham Children’s Hospital since 1995.

In that time he has been Chairman of the UK Paediatric Intensive care society and Clinical Director of Confidential Enquiries in Child Health. He is associated with establishing the Paediatric Intensive Care Society Study Group (intended to facilitate and coordinate national clinical trials) and helped set up the National audit programme “PICANet” for which he chaired the clinical advisory group until 2011. He is still involved in confidential enquiries into deaths from asthma and child head injury.

Gale is the author of a popular textbook on paediatric intensive care, he has also written many chapters in other authoritative textbooks on paediatrics. He has authored 46 original, peer-reviewed, academic papers and contributed to a further 27. He has also authored the report of a national confidential enquiry and the output from this includes a podcast!

Over the years he has contributed advice and peer review on many intensive care related issues at local, national and international level.

ABSTRACT

A Clinicians perspective on 10 years of PICANet

Reflections upon perceived trends in case mix and clinical practice, including the PICANet report “A decade of Data”
